SUDMALIS STARTS UP SANCTUARY POINT CCTV

Today Federal Member for Gilmore, Ann Sudmalis MP, launched the network of CCTV cameras in Sanctuary Point.

Mrs Sudmalis said the promise and delivery of CCTV cameras throughout Gilmore will help keep our community members and businesses safe.

“CCTV is an effective crime fighting tool that has been invaluable for other CBD’s, including Nowra,” Mrs Sudmalis said.

“The Sanctuary Point community have been calling for cameras after numerous small businesses and local residents experienced theft and vandalism.

“Today six cameras are now operational at the local shops to help combat crime and I congratulate Shoalhaven City Council for believing in this important initiative.

“These cameras are part of an election promise of $450,000 for CCTV cameras across the region and it’s great to see them up and running.

“Safety is an important issue to everyone and anything I can do to support our local residents and business owners to increase the level of security in this area is a good thing,” Mrs Sudmalis concluded.

What a Great Team Effort from the Banking Staff, this is Banking at its best and from me, congratulations to the Bank Manager and the dedication of his Banking Staff...

ETHICS PAYS DIVIDENDS

Bendigo Community Bank® Sanctuary Point was a big winner at the 2015 Shoalhaven Business Awards. Our bank, the team at Sanctuary Point and the Board are very proud of our history and track record delivering excellent customer service with great attention to integrity and professionalism.

It is with great pride that we announce that Bendigo Bank Sanctuary Point was this year's winner of the Excellence in Business Ethics category at the Shoalhaven Business Awards Annual dinner.

Banks are often criticised about their integrity and practices. Ethical business practice is the hallmark of community banking and this is where your branch at Sanctuary Point has very clearly differentiated itself from the rest. Bendigo Bank Sanctuary Point has scrupulous policies and processes that ensure the strictest code of ethics is practiced at every level of the organisation.

Congratulations to Keith Robinson, the branch manager and his team; Kerry, Megan, Michael, Sharna and Sarah. This award is a testament to their professional service and attention to detail. Likewise the Board of the Bank takes great pleasure and pride in the knowledge that we conduct behind the scenes business and manage the governance of your bank with diligence, attention to all compliance matters and strict oversight of the financial operation of the business.

Community Banks unlike the Big Four and other large banking institutions base our ideals and values on building strong relationships and being a contributor to community wellbeing. We do not exist to take our money, we exist to support you, your family, your business and your community. Our customers know that they can come into the bank at any time and they will be warmly greeted and assisted professionally throughout their financial journey.

Winning the Excellence in Business Ethics category is an outstanding achievement after a rigorous judging process involving visits to the bank and interviews by a two person judging panel who have to decide among a large number of candidates who is the best. We, the board and the branch team did not take this award lightly in preparing a lengthy submission and participating in the detailed interviews. To our loyal customers we thank you for your support. To those who may not know us yet, we look forward to meeting you soon. ■

Vincenia Market Place

Leasing Opportunities are running out

<http://www.woolworthsvincenia.com.au/>

Forty one years ago, a young gentleman by the name of Greg Watson, suggested developing the site at the corner of Jervis Bay Road and the Wool Road, where today, another great name called Woolworths, have contracted Hutchinson Builders to construct the Woolworths Vincenia Market Place.

Against extreme wet and windy weather conditions during the construction phase to-date, the Hutchinson Builders Senior Site Manager and all of the Contractors on site, in my book, are to be congratulated and I believe the following photos of the partial fitting out by Woolworths, of their own now constructed supermarket, is a testimony of the dedication to deadlines and the professionalism of the workmanship of Hutchinson Builders, who incidentally, have been in the construction business for over 100 years...

I give you a sneak preview of what I saw on the 2nd November 2015 and I ask you to judge for yourself, if what you see has been worth the wait!

Despite the worse weather we have seen in this location for many years BMD Construction are adamant, they will have the necessary access roads to the Woolworths Vincentia Car Parks and Loading Docks, in time for the Woolworths and other Specialty Shops, for Christmas 2015.

Care should always be taken when driving near road construction work and please be guided by the construction crews.

1. Mona Creek Road under Construction.

2. Moona Creek Road Roundabout into Loading bays.

3. Vincentia Leisure Centre access road progressing.

4. VLC access road view from Roundabout to Leisure Centre car park.

5. Bus entrance to leisure centre from Wool Road near Vincentia High School.

6. Bus entrance & Bus parking has been constructed away from Leisure Centre car park...

From me it is still a thumbs up & Well Done!

Congratulations to both Leslee Edwards and Fred Law.

CODE C 2015 BENEFIT NIGHT 17 October 2015

Another successful Code C Benefit Night, by the Coordinator Richard (Dick) Manwarring, was held at the St Georges Basin Country Club, Sanctuary Point. All in attendance were not disappointed, as the night unfolded to see Dick Manwarring raise over $40,000 less expenses.

Proceeds from the night will go towards the running costs of the Bay & Basin Cancer Centre Patient Transport Bus and other Related Charities.

I have include this in my newsletter and perhaps it might one day save a life, or inspire other concerned citizens to undertake a first aid course!

Notice re Palm Beach Management Action Plan Site Meeting.

Unfortunately due to the severe weather and flooding around the Shoalhaven, in particular the Sanctuary Point Palm Beach and Ray Brooks Reserve, this meeting was postponed to a date, which is to be advised!

I have been informed that the Shoalhaven City Council Environmental Manager Kellie Lowe, is presently organising another meeting date, which I and I am sure many visitors to Palm Beach, during the Summer Vacation, would be very happy with Kellie, if she could see her way to give us our Christmas wish and at least give us the opportunity to see a safe clean-up of the seaweed from around the Swimming section and a small area on the sides of the yellow buoys for safe landing of recreational boats as they come ashore for comfort stops.

This is a one and only reminder from me, that the Bay & Basin Cancer Support Group is putting on their Scrumptious Devonshire Tea, not to mention they will be displaying their full stock of beautifully wrapped and presented craft goods, that just might be what you are looking for, for that thoughtful gift that simply says "Thank You," to that special someone at Christmas time!

Steal from Motor vehicles.

Hello again. Well it's almost that time again. The unshaven fat man is going to be coming down the chimney soon; everyone will be full of good cheer and love for their fellow man. Or will they? Unfortunately some of you will forget to lock your car doors and or leave valuable items (Or Xmas presents) in full view of persons walking past. If you do this you are tempting fate. Your vehicle may well become a target for thieves and opportunists who would love to steal your laptop or wallet. They are proficient in turning your I Phone into an I don't have a phone.

Police have continually advised the Public to lock their cars wherever they may park. The message is simple but there are still incidents occurring. At the risk of sounding like a broken record, please lock your vehicle at all times while you are not with it. It is simpler to turn a key than to contact the Bank and cancel your cards, replace your wallet or hand bag, replace your driver's licence, replace the locks on your house because the keys are gone, replace your precious jewellery, replace your inhaler, replace your glasses. The list goes on and on.

Criminals do at times break the windows of vehicles to get at property. If you don't leave property in the vehicle then the enticement is not there and the Criminal may walk away. All I ask is to give it a try.

Remember. If the doors ajar, you lose stuff from your car.

If the car doors are locked then the criminals are blocked.
