5000: Killer's tragic toll

CHERYL FIELD
thesenior.com.au

EVER heard of sepsis? If the answer is No, don't worry - you're not alone. But really, it's about time you did.

You see, sepsis can kill.

About 18,000 Australians are treated in hospital every year, many in intensive care, and at least 5000 die.

Sepsis isn't pretty and it's not a sexy subject: but remember, knowledge is power... and knowledge in this case could just save a life - perhaps your own.

Sepsis is caused by the body's response to infection.

It is especially seen in the very young, the very old, Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and those with weakened immune systems.

The infection causes the immune system to release chemicals into the blood to fight it, but these can also result in organ damage, and can lead to septic shock and death.

As with most medical problems, early recognition and treatment is vital. This usually involves antibiotics and large amounts of intravenous fluids.

KNOW THE SIGNS AND ACT: Older Australians are among at-risk groups for sepsis.

"Sepsis is a time-critical medical emergency," Professor Simon Finfer and colleagues from The George Institute for Global Health at the University of NSW wrote in a perspective published recently by the Medical Journal of Australia.

While acknowledging a number of state-based initiatives, the authors highlighted the fact that Australia has no national action plan to co-ordinate public awareness and treatment of sepsis.

Such a plan, they say, could help prevent diagnostic and treatment delays and significantly address the needs of sepsis survivors.

A recent survey by the Australian Sepsis Network and The George Institute revealed that only one in four Australians had heard of sepsis and only 14 per cent know any of its signs.

So be aware.

Sepsis can occur as the result of any infection, so seek urgent medical help if you or someone you care for has:

- Rapid breathing
- Rapid heart rate
- Confusion, slurred speech or disorientation
- Fever or shivering
- Stopped passing urine
- Discoloured skin

Rotary Emergency Services Community Award

Last Wednesday I had the honour of attending the Shoalhaven Rotary Emergency Services Community Awards at the Bomaderry Bowling Club. It was wonderful to see so many dedicated Emergency Service personnel all come together to celebrate all the nominees from NSW Ambulance, Fire + Rescue NSW, NSW Police Force, NSW State Emergency Service, NSW Rural Fire Service and Marine Rescue NSW.

Well done and congratulations to all the nominees and award recipients as they all do truly embody the Rotary motto of "Service Above Self". I would like to thank the four Rotary Clubs of the Shoalhaven and Dr Peter Taylor for organising and running this inaugural event, I'm sure it will become an important event in the diaries of everyone that attended as it was an excellent night and I look forward to attending again next year.

2019 COMMUNITY BUILDING PARTNERSHIP PROGRAM

Member for South Coast Shelley Hancock today announced applications will open on Monday 2 September for the 2019 Community Building Partnership Program, unlocking $27.9 million for community infrastructure projects across NSW.

Mrs Hancock said $300,000 is available for projects in each NSW electorate, including South Coast, and urged local councils and not-for-profit groups to apply for the funds they need to deliver projects with social, environmental and recreational outcomes.

"Local sports clubs, charities, schools and museums are just some of the groups that benefit from this program," Mrs Hancock said.

"If your organisation or club needs extra funding for infrastructure, such as playgrounds, accessible features, equipment or refurbishment, then I'd strongly encourage you to apply."

The Community Building Partnership program has awarded more than $300 million in funding to 13,800 community projects since it commenced in 2009.

"This program means that you can support your community group to improve the places you meet, train or play," Mrs Hancock said.

"Take the time to prepare and submit your application so your community group doesn't miss out on a share of $300,000."

Applications are open from Monday 2 September and close at 5pm, Friday 27 September 2019.

Applicants must read the program guidelines to ensure their club or organisation and proposed project are eligible.

Woollamia Boat Ramp Upgrade announcement 13th August 2019

Acting Premier John Barilaro and Shelley Hancock MP announced a 20 tonne Loading Dock and Car Park Upgrades that will support Commercial Boating, Marine Tourism and Seafood - related industries in Jervis Bay, that will be delivered thanks to $1.025 million funding from the NSW Government's growing Local Economies Fund.

NSW GOVERNMENT FUNDING TO BUOY LOCAL MARINE INDUSTRIES AND BOOST JOBS IN JERVIS BAY

A 20-tonne loading dock and carpark upgrades that will support commercial boating, marine tourism and seafood-related industries in Jervis Bay will be delivered, thanks to $1.025 million in funding from the NSW Government's Growing Local Economies fund.

Acting Premier John Barilaro today visited the site proposed for the new loading dock and carpark at Woollamia on the banks of Currambene Creek with the member for the South Coast Shelley Hancock, where they announced the funding.

Mr Barilaro said Huskisson Wharf is currently operating at full capacity and the loading dock and 32 space car park will allow more commercial operators into the region, including local mussel and oyster growing businesses.

"Jervis Bay is buzzing with commercial and community boating activity and this loading dock and car park will give a greater number of business operators reliable access to launch, maintain, repair and operate their vessels," Mr Barilaro said.

"Local tourism and aquaculture licensed businesses will be able to more quickly crane boats in and out of the water, ensuring time and money saved when it comes to unloading produce at the dock.

"The NSW Government is committed to delivering infrastructure that will help local industry expand and generate new jobs through the Growing Local Economies fund and this commercial boating infrastructure in Woollamia will do just that.

Member for the South Coast Shelley Hancock said the loading dock and carpark will improve safety at the busy wharf.

"Global demand to enjoy the South Coast's marine tourism experiences and enjoy our local seafood is fantastic news, but we have been concerned about the safety of both commercial and community vessels jostling for a spot on the wharf," Ms Hancock said.

"The tourism and commercial fishing operations have taken off in recent years, putting pressure on boat crews and the wharf, which is why the NSW Government is investing funding infrastructure that enables safer, more efficient unloading and mooring.

"Jobs will follow the increase in whale watching, diving, fishing, aquaculture and seafood-related industry growth this investment supports and I congratulate Shoalhaven City Council on this significant funding win."

Shoalhaven City Council Mayor Amanda Findley welcomed news of the funding and said the council will contribute $342,000 to the project.

"This project represents key enabling infrastructure that will have great flow on benefits for people living and working in Jervis Bay," Cr Findley said.

"The investment will complement plans for a boat maintenance facility which will bring in further jobs for people living locally.

"We thank the NSW Government for this funding and look forward to getting to work on this important project for the region."

The $500 million Growing Local Economies Fund is part of the NSW Government's commitment to the delivery of infrastructure projects which improve the productivity and competitiveness of the state under Restart NSW.

Growing Local Economies is one of the programs in the $1.7 billion Regional Growth Fund, which is delivering the economic, infrastructure and lifestyle improvements that make regional NSW a great place to live, work and play.

Congratulations Shoalhaven City Council for the innovating changes made to the well worn play space at Raybrooks Reserve, Sanctuary Point. Already I have seen an increase in the use of the equipment and I have spoken to some of the parents, who say it is now a pleasure to bring their children to enjoy the equipment!

Tourist time is nearing and Summer is on its way and we welcome all our visitors, where in Sanctuary Point they stay! So very much respectfully, of Shoalhaven City Council I ask, please improve the other infrastructures in Ray Brooks Reserve, to compliment the newly established Play Space for everyone to Share!

Thank you for this wonderful improvement to a Great Asset of the Shoalhaven... Shoalhaven City Council has got my

Roundabouts - love them or hate them
we all have to use them!

And let's face it there are lots and lots throughout the Shoalhaven and the South Coast Police District. But do we all know how to drive on and negotiate a roundabout properly?

Locally, we are seeing drivers approach roundabouts at speed, as though they automatically think they have the right of way, or because there are no other motorists on their right

It is not a stop sign, it is a roundabout and you must give way to any vehicle already in the roundabout.

We are also seeing motorists who have the right of way but are failing to enter the roundabout because they can see other motorists approaching at speed and choose safety rather than possibly being involved in an accident.

Many intersections have a central roundabout, which are designed to manage the traffic flow in roads with either a single lane or multiple lanes.

The Roads and Maritime Services has some guidelines –

Approaching a roundabout: Vehicles entering a roundabout must give way to any vehicle already in the roundabout.

Giving way at a roundabout: The driver must slow down and if necessary, stop to avoid a collision.

Turning left: On your approach to a roundabout you must select the left lane, signal left, stay in the left lane to exit.

Going straight ahead: Do not signal when approaching the roundabout but always signal left before exiting a roundabout. You may approach the roundabout from either left or right lanes (unless there are road markings with other instructions), drive in the same lane through the roundabout and exit in the same lane.

Turning right: On your approach, to a roundabout you must select the right lane, signal right, stay in the right lane and signal left before exiting into the right lane.

Making a U-turn: When you use the roundabout to make a U-turn on your approach signal right from the right lane, stay in the right lane, but signal left before exiting into the right lane.

Exiting a roundabout: If practical, you must always signal left when exiting a roundabout.

The rules for slowing down, giving way and signalling when approaching and exiting at roundabouts are the same for single lane and multi-lane roundabouts.

Bicycle riders are allowed to turn right from the left hand lane. When passing each exit, the rider must give way to any vehicle leaving the roundabout from that exit.

Things to watch -

Take extra care whenever you drive in a roundabout.

Keep an eye out for cars that are leaving the roundabout.

Be careful if changing lanes in a roundabout, particularly when leaving.

Look out for vehicles that are making a full turn.

Watch for bicycles, long vehicles and motorcycles.

Remember: Do not Drink and Drive and you can Dob in a Druggie any time you like, by contacting Nowra Police or ringing Crime Stoppers. As always, in case of emergency, call (000)
